Parents Interest Petition for a grade 7-12 secondary school program in AUSD

AUSD is considering Master Plan Scenario B and developing a 7-12 option as a possibility in the event a parcel tax does not pass in March 2010 and schools need to be consolidated and closed.

In Master Plan Scenario A, the AUSD parcel tax passes in March 2011, and AUSD becomes a state-of-the-art, 21st century school District by implementing it's eight core strategies. Two of these strategies include: raise the bar for academic achievement & equity & create a system of attractive school options.

The Alameda PTA Council is trying to gauge current public interest in a comprehensive secondary school program that would start in 7th grade through 12th grade. The following parents and community members are interested in the development of a grades 7-12 secondary program at Encinal High School as a school choice option for middle school students in Alameda. This is an interest form only and will be shared with the AUSD Board of Education in an effort to explore the possibility of a magnet or pilot 7-12 program in Alameda.
